

Railways in Africa

Snapshot 2017

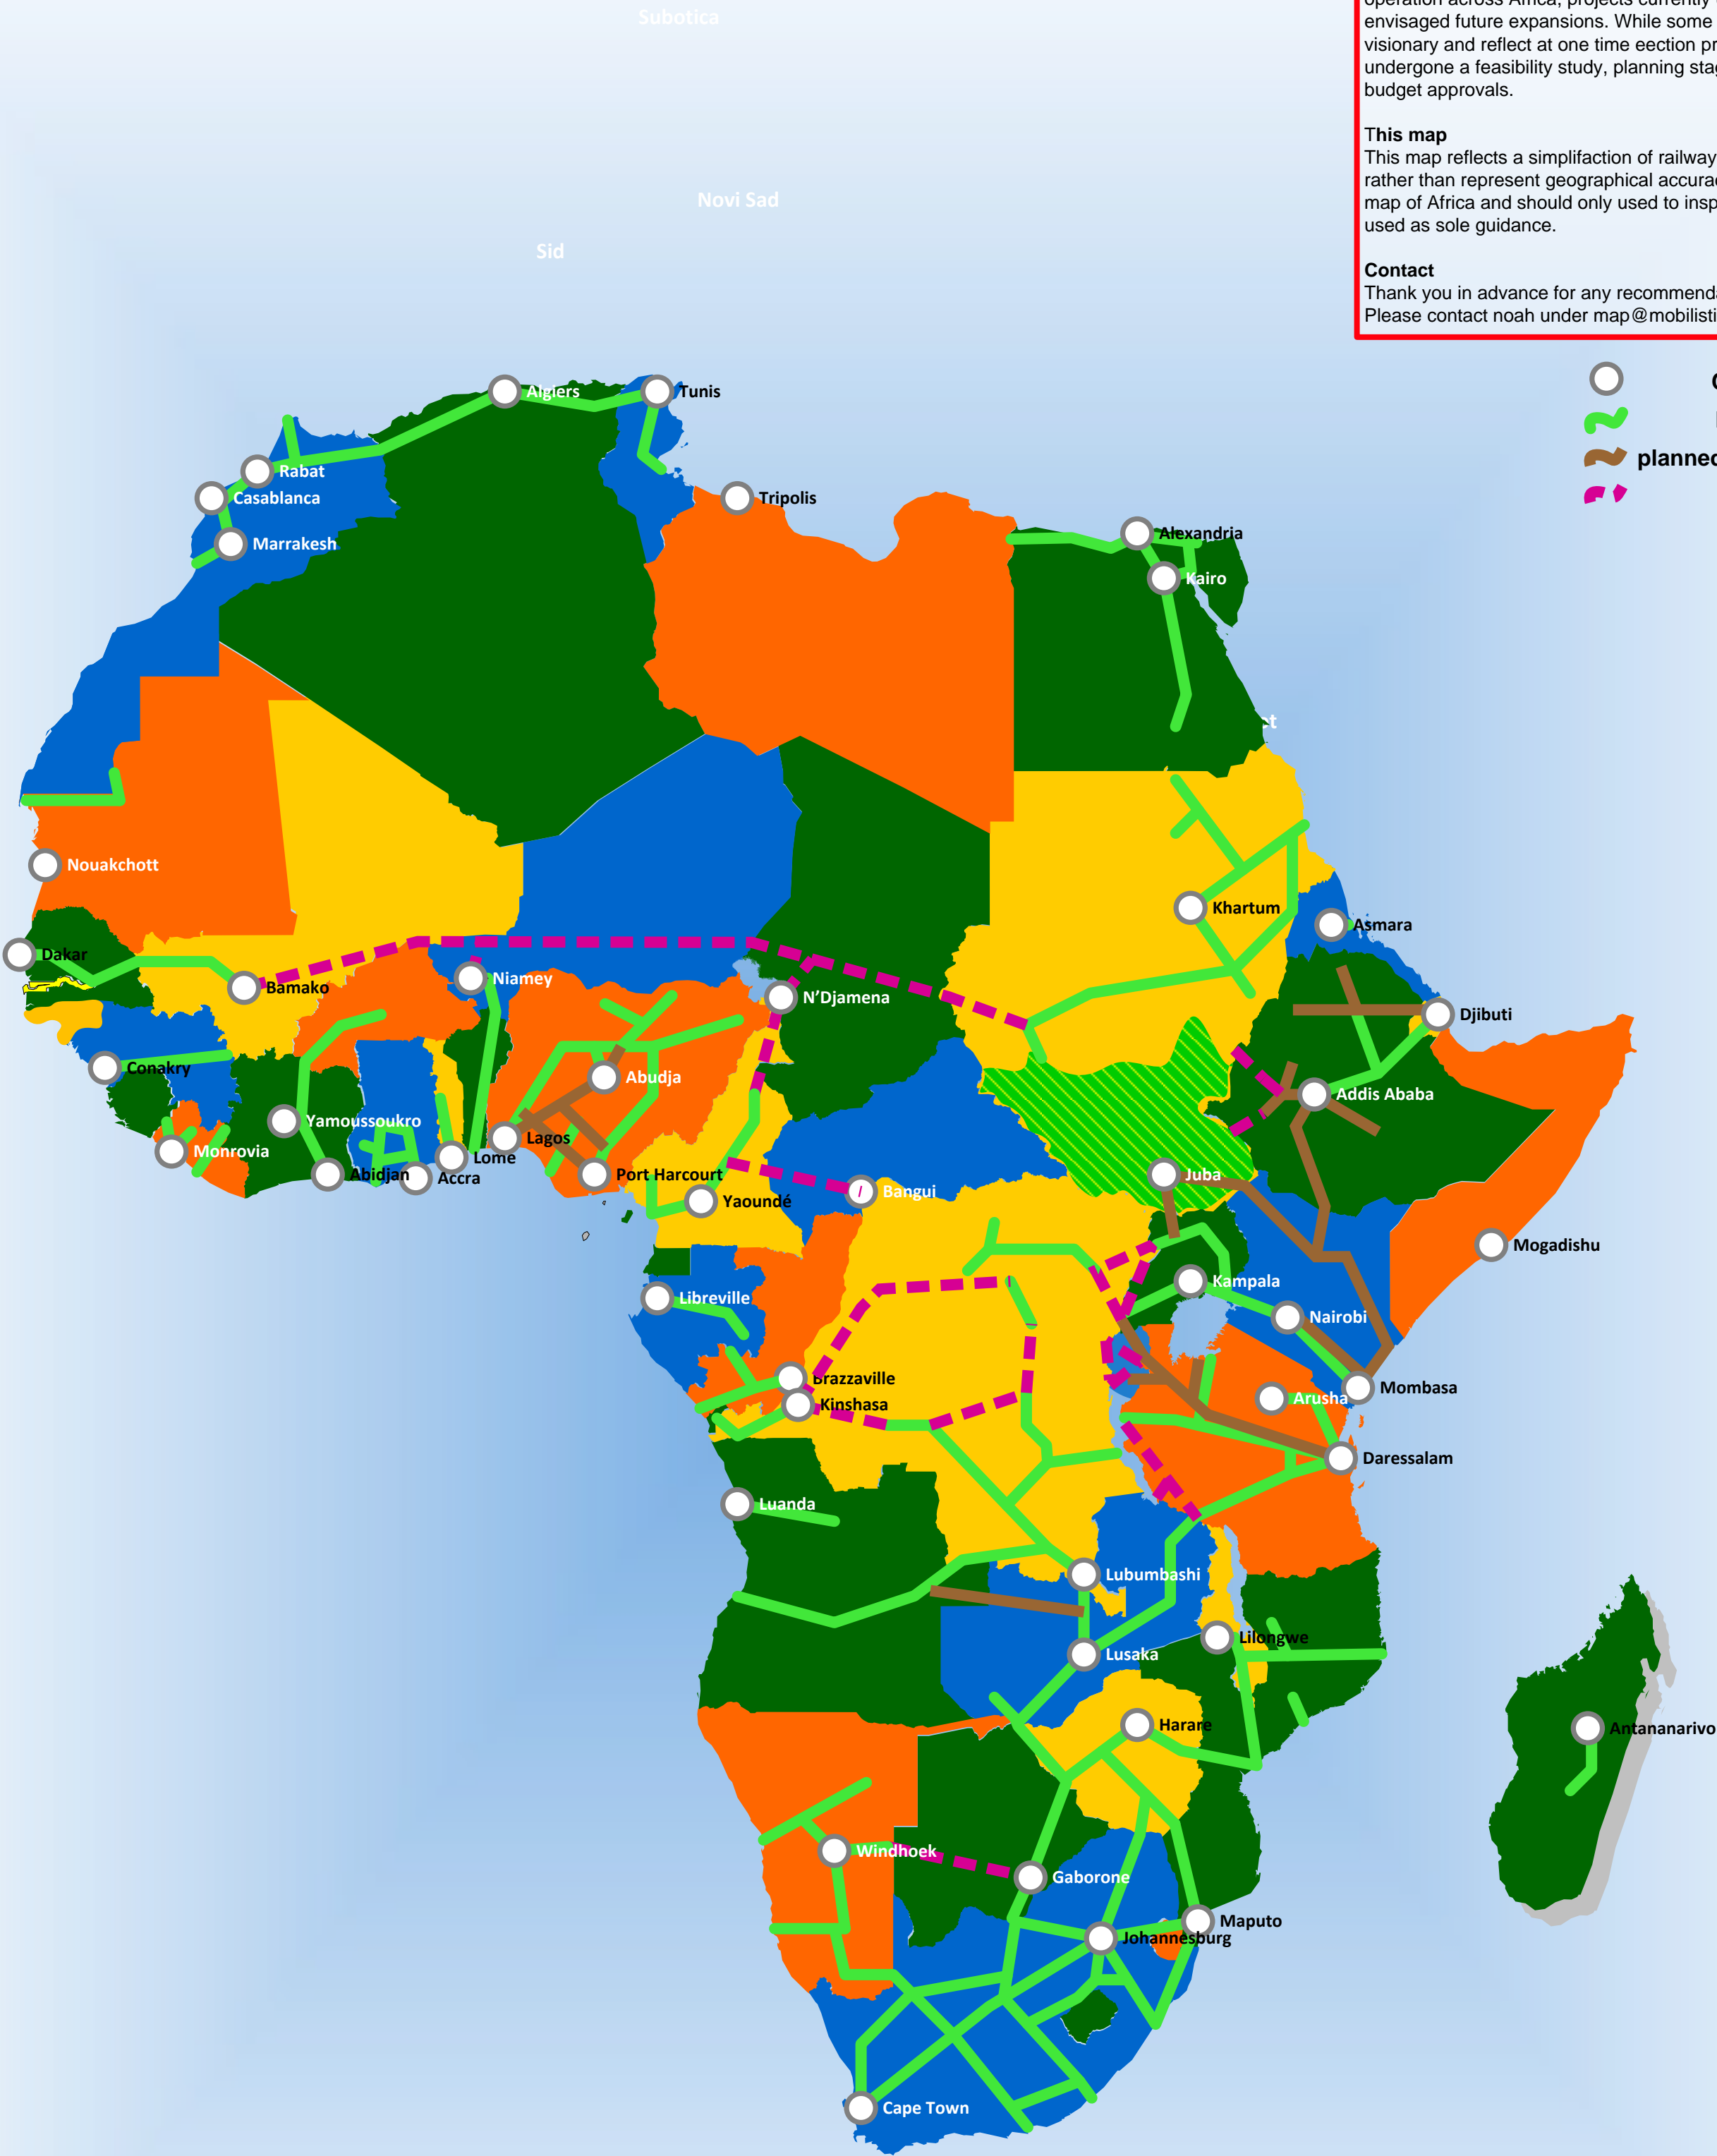

By Noah Gunzinger

Future Railways in Africa

This map is based on major current railway lines currently in operation across Africa, projects currently under construction and envisaged future expansions. While some of these projects are visionary and reflect at one time election promises, all have undergone a feasibility study, planning stages or have received budget approvals.

This map
This map reflects a simplification of railway lines to show connections rather than represent geographical accuracy. It is not an accurate map of Africa and should only be used to inspire railway trips but not used as sole guidance.
